

Livestock Health Requirements

All livestock and poultry consigned to the Tri-County Free Fair shall be inspected by a species dedicated Superintendent or a Fair official at the time of unloading.

Any symptoms of infectious or contagious disease will be cause for rejection of entries.

No livestock from herds or flocks under quarantine by the Kansas Livestock Commission will be accepted.

It is required that all horses have a negative Coggins test within the last 12 months.

We reserve right to have inspection of livestock done by a licensed Veterinary at the expense of livestock owner.
